MCKINLEY AND WILSON ABROAD.

In 1890 William McKinley was burned in effigy in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1894 William L. Wilson was dined and wined in London because he is the author of a Free-trade Tariff Bill. These are significant facts.

STATEMENTS of the condition of the Federal Treasury are published monthly. Those statements showed that the Cleveland Administration delivered to the Harrison Administration $183,000,000; and the Harrison Administration turned over to the present Administration $124,000,000, a reduction of $59,000,000. As the Harrison Administration paid $243,000,000 of the National debt, while CLEVELAND paid but $133,000,000, a difference of $90,000,000, it would show that the Harrison Administration had $31,000,000 the best of it. When Democratic orators and papers assert that the Harrison Administration left a bankrupt Treasury, they state what every well-informed man knows is a palpable lie.

SHOT HIM DEAD!

OFFICER STOCKDALE INSTANTLY KILLS WILLIAM PRICE.

Culmination of a Series of Difficulties—Price Pays the Penalty For His Aggressiveness.

Died with his boots on!

That's the fate that generally befalls the desperado.

William Price, who was better known as "Boley" Price, was killed instantly about half past 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The particulars in brief are:

Deputy Chief of Police W. A. Stockdale was at his home, 215 Walnut street, Fifth Ward;

Freeman Price, father of the dead man, lives with his family next door;

"Boley" had been drinking considerably, and had become so noisy about the polls that the officers warned him away;

William Ginn, a friend, volunteered to take him home;

When passing Stockdale's house, Price kicked the door and fired a pistol-shot through the glass panel, the fragments of glass cutting the wrist of Miss Ella Stockdale, who was inside the door.

Mr. Stockdale, who had just come down stairs from his off-duty nap, was in the hall, but neither he nor his daughter had any warning of Price's presence or intentions.

After this Mr. Ginn succeeded in getting Price to his own home, where his father and mother tried to keep him.

Meanwhile Mr. Stockdale had sent up stairs for his shotgun, and placed it near at hand in the hall, taking his stand in the doorway.

Instead of remaining at home Price came out, and confronting the officer began again his hostile demonstrations.

In a twinkling Stockdale reached his gun, and in less time than it takes to write it Price lay dead on the sidewalk, his breast filled with bullets.

Throughout it appears that Mr. Ginn had acted the part of peacemaker.

This is the sequel of two former shoot-outs between the parties.

Several years ago Officer Stockdale shot Price in the leg while he was fleeing from arrest, and on June 15th, 1893, each shot the other on identically the same spot where yesterday's killing occurred, Price being slightly wounded in the chin and Stockdale receiving a severe wound in the stomach.

For this affair Price was sent to the Penitentiary for a year, and he had but recently returned here.

It will be remembered, also, that Price shot and dangerously wounded Polk

Forsythe of Paris at the Maysville Fair some years ago.

The dead man would have been 30 years old next spring.

A postmortem was held last evening, and Coroner Roe will hold an inquest at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Stockdale surrendered himself to Chief Ort, and Judge Plister placed him under $3,000 bond to appear for a hearing at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The bond was given promptly.

The funeral of William Price will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the residence on Walnut street, Fifth Ward. Rev. D. P. Holt will officiate.

A STRIKE

In the Coke Region of Connelville, Pa., Ordered.

The Trouble, it is Said Has Been Brewing for Some Time.

The Cause is a Big Jump in the Price of Coke, But No Corresponding Increase in Wages—The Men Are Expected to Go Out November 15.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Nov. 7.—There are prospects of another strike in the Connelville coke region. It has been brewing for some time, and notices have been posted calling on the coke-workers and miners to come out on a strike November 15.

The whole matter is denied by District President Lawrence Davis, who says that no strike is contemplated.

The McClure Co., suspecting that strike agitators were at work among the men, have shut down 150 ovens and laid the suspected agitators off. The price of coke had advanced from $1.50 to $2. There had, however, been no corresponding advance in wages.

That the operators are expecting a conflict is evidenced by the fact that they are storing coke as rapidly as possible.

CIVIL SERVICE EXTENSION.

Chiefs of Divisions to Be Taken in Out of Political Weather.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The intimation given by the civil service commission in announcing the recent extensions in the civil service by the president that further extensions were to be made at an early date, has been discussed in the departments and among officials who know, and it is said the next extension will include chiefs of divisions in the various departments, which would be a very important move. The salaries paid to these officers are $2,000 each. They have always been held as political plums for the smaller politician, who seeks office in Washington, and it is claimed that oftentimes they are appointed without any fitness whatever for the positions they hold. In many cases the assistant chiefs do all the business of a division during an entire administration. Sometimes it has been suggested that these assistants be promoted, but they generally decline because they fear a new administration might dispense with them and they would be out of a position. If the civil service system should be extended to chiefs of divisions, it will certainly be of great importance to the service and accomplish what the commission has long contended for.

For Good Roads.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The agricultural department is about to issue elaborate information on the subject of "good roads" which congress has directed the department to investigate. The publication will embrace the entire proceedings of the National Road conference held at Asbury Park, N. J., July 5 and 6 last, at which conference every shade of opinion on improving roads was presented. Mr. Roy Stone, the special agent and road engineer of the department, will also include a number of addresses on the road question. He makes no report, so that these addresses practically constitute a report.

Prisoners Escape Jail.

LAWRENCE, Kas., Nov. 7.—Five prisoners escaped from jail by sawing through the bars of a roof window. They were Matt Ryan, alias George Hayes, and Brock Ryan, burglar and pickpocket. Ryan has served terms in Joliet and Jefferson City penitentiaries. The other four were colored horse thieves—Bill Doolley, James Jones, John Austin and Fred Miller. Each had a half dozen aliases. It is believed that the saw was given to Ryan by an old man who came to the jail two weeks ago, claiming to be a minister and wishing to pray with the prisoners.

WHY HE DID IT.

A Suicide Induced Col. Ingersoll's "Destroying" Theory.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Wm. Miller, aged 31, who suicided by firing a 32-caliber ball into his heart, left a letter behind saying that Ingersoll claimed it was right for a man to "destroy" himself.

The deed was evidently premeditated, for in his pockets were found no less than five letters, addressed to as many different persons, and bidding all farewell. One letter was stamped and sealed, and on the envelope was written, in the German language, to Chas. Richter and Jacob Fritzsche, of 424 Wood street, the information that $35 inclosed was for his funeral expenses. Another letter, to his sweetheart in this city, thanked her for her many kindnesses and expressed his love, while to his mother in Germany was written a letter in a like strain.

Miller was apparently a man of morbid disposition and one easily to be influenced, for in the letter that he had addressed to Adolph Trippel, in a Virginia town, he quoted from Ingersoll's article favoring suicide. The excerpt from the letter is: "I heartily agree with Col. Ingersoll when he remarked, that when life is of no value and you are of no assistance to anyone, not even to yourself, why not destroy yourself? Well, that is what I intend to do."

FOUND DEAD.

A Dastardly Murder of a Probable Witness at Tacoma, Wash.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 7.—About daylight the lifeless body of Matthew A. Bartlett, a well-known young man, was found on the sidewalk by a newsboy. His right ear was bruised and his nose bloody, but he bore no other marks of violence, though papers from his pockets were scattered about. His watch was untouched.

The theory generally advanced is that Bartlett was murdered for knowing too much about the mysterious death of Accountant Joseph Shadle, at the Stelacoon asylum, last month. Some claimed then that Shadle was poisoned, though a subsequent investigation seemingly refuted the claim. At that time Bartlett was an attendant at the asylum, remaining until September. Several nights of last week he was followed by two men, and in explaining the matter to friends, he said that it was because he knew too much about the Shadle case. He bought a revolver and was much worried about the matter. Subsequently the two mysterious men attempted to hold him up but he evaded them.

Cowles, the United States naval attaché.

Services at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Prince Cantacuzene, the Russian minister, notified the state department Tuesday that memorial exercises to the late czar would be held at the Russian legation at 10 o'clock Friday morning.
